The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 3, 9, 10, 13, 15 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bonora.

Bonora discloses films of low density polyethylene comprising metal oxides such as zinc oxide and benzotriazoles (see claims) formed by blow extrusion (example 1).

Applicants limitations to barrier wavelengths and haze are seen as inherent to the films of the reference since their chemical compositions meet the limitations of the rejected claims.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4-8, 14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bonora in view of Knoerzer et al.

Bonora discloses polymeric films as discussed above. This reference fails to explicitly recite particle sizes for the metal oxides, the use of titanium oxide, orientation of the films or applicants preferred film thickness.

Application/Control Number: 09/831,610
Art Unit: 1714

Page 3

Knoerzer et al discloses the use of nanoscale particles of titanium dioxide as UV barriers for polyolefin films which may be oriented (see abstract and column 2, line 50).

Regarding applicants claimed film thickness, values such as are claimed are seen as obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art desiring to tailor the film to a particular application.

Claims 2, 11 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
